MD AL HASIB

🏛 7825 McCallum Blvd, Dallas, Texas 75252, United States of America
☎ +1(929) 665 6566 ✉ hasib@utdallas.edu in linkedin.com/in/md-al-hasib 🌐 https://www.alhasib.net

ABOUT ME

Driven by curiosity and commitment to advancing public welfare, I strive to address complex policy challenges and develop innovative solutions. With years of experience and a deep understanding of socioeconomic, political, and cultural contexts, I aim to make meaningful contributions to the field of public management, global policy research and development.

EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy in Public Affairs — Fall 2024 (Currently Studying)
The University of Texas at Dallas — Dallas, Texas, USA

Master of Social Science in Public Administration — April 2018 – September 2019
University of Barishal — Barishal, Bangladesh

Bachelor of Social Science in Public Administration — November 2012 – March 2018
University of Barishal — Barishal, Bangladesh

Undergraduate Monograph: "Citizens' trust in the service delivery at local government"
Description: The study analyzed the level of citizens' trust, underlying factors, and their impacts on local government. It bears significance from the governance perspective by bringing new insights for effective development interventions and service delivery. The findings of the study revealed some factors adversely affect good governance practice in the local level.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Behavioral Public Administration | Collaborative Governance | Policy Synergies and Conflicts | Political Institutions and Economic Development | Healthcare and Police Administration

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

American Society for Public Administration (ASPA), 2026 -present
Public Management Research Association (PMRA), 2026-present
The Association for Public Policy Analysis and Management (APPAM), 2026-present

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCES

The University of Texas at Dallas — August 2024 – Present
Teaching Assistant — Affiliation: School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences

- Assist Professors in the class, grade papers, assess quizzes, and proctor exams.
- Help students with understanding course contents, and discuss concerns.
- Maintain course's online platform, and perform other administrative duties as required.
- Develop research ideas to design research project with Professors for publication.

.

BRAC Institute of Governance and Development — September 2023 – November 2023
Project Assistant — Affiliation: Nina Buchmann; Stanford University

- Assisted in preparing survey documents for ethical review processes.
- Supervised the data collection and assisted with conducting high-frequency checks.
- Bench-tested electronic surveys and assists in conducting enumerator training sessions.
- Evaluated the enumerator's performance throughout the training phase and during data collection.
- Handled communication and coordination among team members, stakeholders, and collaborators.

Project: Gender-Based Violence
Principal Investigators: Atonu Rabbani, University of Dhaka; Nina Buchmann, Stanford University

Stanford University — February 2023 – August 2023
Research Consultant — Affiliations: Nina Buchmann and Adrian Blattner; Stanford University

- Coordinated Randomized Control Trial based projects fieldwork in urban setup.
- Led MS Excel Workshops for the promotion treatment arm of the project.
- Consulted PIs about resolving challenges in the field, suggested the best way to implement treatments.
- Ensured the quality and integrity of the research process, and checked for errors or biases.
- Conducted desk review of survey instruments, modified the draft of the survey methodology plan.
- Refined field-training manual to ensure accurate training delivery, project implementation and reliable findings.

Project: Paternalistic Employers and Benevolent Discrimination
Principal Investigators: Nina Buchmann and Carl Meyer, Stanford University; Colin Sullivan, Purdue University

Project: Know Your Place
Principal Investigators: Adrian Blattner, Pascaline Dupas, Muriel Niederle, Stanford University

BRAC James P. Grant School of Public Health- BRAC University February 2020 - January 2023
Field Research Coordinator Affiliations: Atonu Rabbani, University of Dhaka; Nina Buchmann, Stanford University

- Facilitated and supervised multi-year, large-scale randomized control trial-based fieldwork from inception to implementation concerned with domestic violence and child marriage.
- Assisted in preparing sample frames, scheduling data collection, implementing efficient consenting processes, and protecting ethical guidelines in field operation.
- Assisted in developing data collection tools, translation of guidelines, transcription of interviews, finance management, open hiring vacancy, and interviewing numerous project assistants to recruit.
- Prepared field budget, timeline, and work hours, kept track of the progress of regular data collection, scheduled meetings with internal and external teams, and maintained project protocols.
- Led training and settlement of field research teams in several rural and urban fields, providing technical and logistical support to ensure the smooth execution of the plan.

Project: A Media Experiment To Reduce Intimate Partner Violence in Bangladesh
Investigators: Nina Buchmann, Stanford University; Paula Lopez Pena, Queens University; Atonu Rabbani, University of Dhaka

Project: A Signal to End Child Marriage: Theory and Experimental Evidence from Bangladesh
Investigators: Nina Buchmann, Stanford University; Erica Field, Duke University

Project: Worker Well-Being and Productivity in the Bangladesh Garment Sector
Investigators: Atonu Rabbani, University of Dhaka; Christopher Woodruff, Oxford University

Project: Health, Hygiene, and Housing (Phase 2)
Investigators: AtonuRabbani, University of Dhaka; Malabika Sarker, BRAC University

Project: Amplifying Resilient Communities: Recover From a Crisis, Such As Covid-19
Investigators: Malabika Sarker, BRAC University

Oxfam in Bangladesh August 2020 - October 2020
Programme Associate Affiliation: Fadrick Suvro Nath (Local Humanitarian Partnership Specialist, Oxfam GB)

- Supervised the distribution of relief kits to 7,000 coastal residents of southern Bangladesh who were affected by Super Cyclone Bulbul in 2019.
- Carried out Inception Meetings at the community level to ensure mass participation by implementing counsels in several phases of the project cycle management.
- Supported partners in transparent beneficiary registration and verification, also introduced implementation of safe programming and gender mainstreaming.
- Monitored quality and quantity of relief materials, and look after project vendors, market accessibility, safety and security, and timely distribution.
- Presented Oxfam in meetings with partners, Government, NGOs, and local elected bodies and coordinate withother agencies for streaming project objectives and cooperatives.

BRAC James P. Grant School of Public Health- BRAC University June 2019 - January 2020
Field Research Assistant Affiliation: Atonu Rabbani, University of Dhaka

- Collected community-based quantitative and qualitative data through various data collection tools.
- Contributed to tool development, e.g., suggesting items, formatting language, translating, and composing.

DIGITAL SKILLS

Survey Design: SurveyCTO, KoboToolbox, Qualtrics CoreXM, SurveyMonkey
Analysis: R, Stata, NVivo, Atlas.ti, MAXQDA, QGIS
Reference Manager: EndNote, Mendeley, Zotero

LEADERSHIP / EXTRACURRICULARS

Organization for PNM PhD Students July 2025 – Present
Position: Communication Director The University of Texas at Dallas

- Develop and implement strategic communication initiatives to enhance engagement among PhD students, faculty, and external stakeholders, including managing newsletters, email campaigns, and digital platforms.
- Coordinate event promotion, research spotlight features, and academic announcements to strengthen community visibility and support professional development activities.

Youth Policy Forum April 2021 – March 2022
Position: Policy Envoy Grassroots Network

- Published online articles exposing mismanagement and mistreatment in drug rehabilitation centers, and developed policy memos recommending system reforms for government interventions.
- Promoted vaccine uptake, registration, and health safety by creating informative online videos, and organized fundraising initiatives for food and mask distribution during the pandemic.

Youth Voice of Bangladesh October 2013 – October 2019
Position: Convenor University of Barishal, Bangladesh

- Provided induction for new members, arranged meetings and campaigns, and led the student's community volunteering programs.
- Distributed blankets and cloths during sever winter and foods during Covid-19 for marginal communities and provided Holy Quran during Ramadan.